If It Snows...

If you are unsure whether the school will be open on a day when it snows, please listen to BBC Radio Lincolnshire and Lincs FM, their respective websites and Parentmail which will all provide relevant information as to whether we are open or not. A decision will not be made until 8am, therefore remain at home until the latest time possible to safely travel to school. Please note, even when these establishments are contacted by school, it can often take a considerable time for the information to be available for broadcasting or uploading.

Swimming Champions

Well done to the School's Swimming team who won the inter-schools competition last week! What a fantastic team effort.

Maths Competition

A team of three children consisting of Courtney Corringan, Alfie Wojnar and Matthew Bowley represented the school at a local maths event at Winchelsea School, Ruskington. The 'Team' joined children from other schools and worked together on mathematical problem solving tasks. These were very unusual problems consisting of a hieroglyphic number square, algebra tasks and fraction problems. The children worked extremely well with the other children in their team and we are very proud of their success.

Cranwell Confirmed as County Champions Winners

Cranwell's gymnastics squad had great success at the recent Lincolnshire Schools gymnastics competition. The Under 7's (Eleanor Slack, Natasza Roj, Georgia Lister, Maisy Kelly and Imogen McEvoy) were outstanding and won the team gold medal. Whilst Ruby Cumming, Lottie Ireland, Marcelina Roj, Zoe Unwin and Ruby Leech took second place in the Under 9's.

Judo Competition

When done to the team who entered the Judo competition here at Cranwell. The team (see below) consisted of Oliver Hobster, Ridley Mason, Kya Wray and Kiera-Rose Lewis.

Five ways to help your child play safe

1. Check the game's content

Always check age ratings but remember they don't cover everything. It's important to check the game out yourself before letting a young child play it. If you want extra information about the content of a boxed console or computer game, take a look at the Video Standard's Council's Additional Consumer Information (ACI).

2. Know how to mute, block and report

Help children understand that people they meet online may not always be who they claim to be. Some games let you mute, block and report other users. Make sure your child knows how to do this if someone in the game upsets them or makes them feel uncomfortable. Childline has online gaming advice to help them do this. Remind your child they can come to you if they're ever worried.

3. Be Share Aware

Remind your child not to give out any personal information, photos or videos to anyone online, even if they know them. If your child plays games with people they don't know, remind them not to take the conversation off the game, onto other social networks or into a private chat.

4. Activate safety settings

Turn on parental controls on gaming consoles to help prevent children from downloading age inappropriate games or seeing harmful material. The Apple App Store lets you turn off in-app purchases on iPads and iPhones. And The Apple App Store and Google Play let you create a pin code that must be entered before you buy. You can also turn on privacy settings on some games to control what other users can see about you and stop strangers from contacting you. Contact the O2 & NSPCC Online Safety Helpline for free on 0808 800 5002 for advice on how to do this.

5. Keep the conversation going

Have regular conversations with your child about staying safe online. Agree what games are suitable for them to play and help them understand why others are inappropriate. Talk to them about the types of games they may be watching on game streaming sites.

Domino Run

The children have recently become fascinated by the clips of domino World Record attempts. We have very kindly been lent a domino run set. The children had to think about the space they put between the dominoes. They quickly learnt not to shake the table!
