

Here are the next set of challenges that will be uploaded daily onto Tapestry. We hope that you are enjoying them and we love looking at the photos and videos that you share with us each day. Please keep reading and looking through your phonics envelope as well as challenging yourself on Mathletics and playing the fun games on Education City. If you have read all your school books you can always help mum/dad to read your bedtime story or look on www.oxfordowl.co.uk for some free ebooks like your school books.

Sending love and best wishes to you all.

This would usually have been the last week of the term in school where we would have joined together for Grandparent day. We are very sad that we are not in school to enjoy this. We hope that you are enjoying time at home though and keeping in touch with your wider family. We are missing you lots in school and will give you another call this week for a catch up. Thank you for the learning that you have uploaded onto Tapestry, it really does brighten our day.

Take care and enjoy the lovely sunshine!
